Fund Still Increasing

Money For Heppner Keeps Coming In—Great Vaudeville Performance Tomorrow.

Astoria's fund for the Heppner sufferers continues to mount steadily upwards, and will undoubtedly reach $2000, when the funds from the opera house benefit that is to be given tomorrow afternoon are received. Mayor Suprenant has prepared a list of all the subscribers up to Saturday night, and all others will be included after the performance tomorrow.

The following letter has been received by the mayor from Mayor Gilliam of Heppner under date of June 19: "We have received the generous contribution of $1080.70, made by your citizens for the relief of the suffering people of Heppner. Please accept and convey to the people of Astoria our sincerest thanks for their kind remembrance of us in this our time of need and distress. Your contribution has been placed in the hands of the executive committee and will be used by them for the purposes for which it was given."

A telegraphic subscription of $20 was received yesterday from Herman Wise.

Preparations for the vaudeville entertainment to be given at 2 P. M. tomorrow in the opera house have been completed. Manager Selig will direct the performance, while Mayor Suprenant, who has been untiring in the work of the relief committee, will have charge of the finances. Manager Hager of the Unique theater has allowed his performers to take part, as have the Quaker doctors, and several well-known local people will also assist. The program is unusually good and will consist of selections by the Columbia orchestra and the Allen company band, vaudeville turns by the different comedians, a sparring exhibition, specialties by Verna Felton and members of the Allen company, a solo by Mrs. J. T. Ross, and the first act of "A Black Heifer" by the Allen company.

The complete list of subscribers to the fund is as follows:

WANTS ALL THREE KINDS
Chicago Attorney Anxious for More Oregon Trout Fishing.
Oregon's fame as a fishing state has gone forth far and wide, witness a letter received yesterday by Master Fish Warden Van Dusen from Graham H. Harris, an attorney of 1018 Ashland block, Chicago. Mr. Harris is desirous of finding a place from which he can enjoy fishing for rainbow, Shasta and Dolly Varden trout, and Mr. Van Dusen thinks that he can be accommodated.
Mr. Harris says that he has fished the Jefferson, Madison, Gallatin and Snake rivers already, that he can camp out from four to six weeks, that he will not fish with anything but a fly, and he winds up with a touch of the old pioneer spirit: "I do not object to hardship preferring camping to living in a house. Indeed, I wish to get away from the crowd, so anything, even a day or so from the railroad, . . . will suit me."

FOR RENT.
Housekeeping, 2 large rooms, furnished or unfurnished, gas and electric lights, water in kitchen. Over Peterson & Brown's shoe store.

Welcome Given To Visitors

Delegates to Federation Of Women's Clubs Warmly Received By Local Members.

Their cheerfulness unaffected by the drizzling rain that was falling as the Portland train entered the depot last night, many delegates to the meeting of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs climbed down to the west platform to be warmly welcomed by the hosts of the occasion.

Nearly one hundred delegates will be present this morning when the first session is called to order in the Odd Fellows' hall at 9 o'clock, and everything is in readiness for the transaction of business, the executive board having met at the residence of the Federation secretary, Mrs. M. H. Elmore, last night.

The hall has been beautifully draped with the Federation colors, red, white and blue, and with the colors of the local club, purple and white. Flowers have been used with such profusion that the room is a bower of loveliness. A gorgeous bunch of Iris, the flower of the Astoria Woman's club, ornaments the desk of the recording secretary, and the roses for which the city is famous add to the scheme of decoration.

The program for today is as follows: Meeting of credential committee, 9 A. M.

Call to order.
Invocation, Lord's prayer.
Song, "America."

Address of welcome, Mrs. S. Elmore.
Response for Federation, Mrs. Louisa Altman.

Report of credential committee; roll call of delegates; reports of officers.
Education, Mrs. John Halley, Jr.
Domestic Science, Dr. Mae Cardwell.
Library, Mrs. E. P. Marshall.
Announcements; introduction of visitors; adjournment.

Call to order, 1:30 P. M.
Music.
Clivics, Mrs. Julia Marquam.
Oregon History, Mrs. Robert Miller.
Reports of clubs; report of committee on revision of constitution; adjournment.

Reception, Odd Fellows' building, 5 P. M.

DAY IS A "SMOOTH GUY"

Self-Styled Advance Agent for Ringings Can Talk a Few.

A plausible talker is Harry Day, who is now locked up in the county jail, thanks to the energy of Sheriff Linville, who caught his man at Cathlamet Sunday. Day is the "advance agent of Ringings' circus," succeeded in obtaining $7.50 from a local merchant, commission on a contract that he made for supplies to the outfit when it should arrive here. There is nothing small about the man, except his size, for he tried hard to make a contract with an Astoria butcher for something like 300 pounds of meat a day for the circus. The butcher thought the quantity was a little too big, and this made him suspicious. Day talks of bringing only half the show here. He said that there was not enough ground for the whole circus to camp, and then he confidentially told his listener that the people of this burg would not have sense enough to know that they were seeing no more than half of the "greatest show in America."

Day is fastidious and likes nothing but the best. He stayed at the Occidental here, and acted as though he had just bought out Morgan, Rockefeller, and a few others.

It is probable that the matter will be settled without recourse to the courts, if Day digs up the money he obtained here.
